

Plenary Speakers

Jim Wright is the Principal of Pilgrims Teacher Training in Canterbury and is responsible for the overall management, vision and continued growth of Pilgrims. He is passionate about creating an environment where inspiration, transformation and feeling good about ourselves are possibilities for all staff and participants.

Originally from the UK, Janice Bland, University of Münster, has been working in education and academia in Germany for many years. Her core interests are all connected to creativity in language education in primary and secondary school settings: children's literature, creative writing, critical literacy and global issues, picturebooks and graphic novels, intercultural learning and drama. She has authored fairy tales and mini plays for language teaching with young learners.

Chaz Pugliese is a trainer, international presenter and author working out of Paris, France. Previously Director of Teacher Training at Pilgrims, UK, he is self-employed and carries out training and consultancies all over the world. He has trained hundreds of teachers, has been a keynote speaker at conferences in over 30 countries and has contributed over 60 articles and papers to all major ELT publications. In 2013 he co-founded, with Alan Maley, the Creativity Group.
